

The Association for the History of Glass
The Griffith Institute, University of Oxford
The School of Archaeology, University of Oxford

Spring 2022 Study Day: Late Bronze Age Glass

29th April 2022

The meeting will be held at the Weston Library Lecture Theatre, Oxford

- 10:00-10:30 Registration in Blackwell Hall, Weston Library, Oxford*
10:30-10:40 Introduction to the Day (Daniela Rosenow, Griffith Institute)
10:40 -11:10 Lecture 1 and Q&A - TBC
11:10-11:40 Lecture 2 and Q&A - TBC
- 11:40-12:00 Coffee break*
- 12:00-12:30 Lecture 3 and Q&A - Patrick Degryse : Gold and yellow glass equivalence in the Late Bronze Age*
12:30-13:00 Lecture 4 and Q&A - Andrew Shortland : TBC
- 13:00-14:30 Lunch Break*
- 14:30-15:00 Lecture 5 and Q&A - Melina Smirniou : Trade and Exchange between the Aegean and Egypt*
15:00-15:30 Lecture 6 and Q&A - Katharina Schmidt : Iron Age Glass from the Near East and its links to Bronze Age traditions
15:30-15:45 Round Up
- 16:00-16:45 Curated Tour of Tutankhamun Exhibition*
- 17:00-18:00 Keynote: Katja Broschat - Keynote: Small things, big things & everything in between: Glass from Tutankhamun's tomb*
18:00-19:00 Reception

Suggested venue for post seminar drinks: King's Arms, 40 Holywell St, Oxford OX1 3SP.